

Hello <Customer's Name>,

I trust you are doing well.

I am writing in regards with our appointment today at <time>. I am afraid that I will have to reschedule our appointment as <state the reason>. I apologize for any inconvenience this may cause you.

I would be available again after <time/date>. If you would be available, please let me know your availability to block our calendars to connect and discuss the case further. Else, we can schedule a call for tomorrow where my calendar looks free between <time> and <time>. Also, if you would like to have a call today itself, I can try to find if one of my colleagues would be available to connect with you.

Please let me know your thoughts on this. I look forward to hearing from you. Sorry again for the inconvenience.
