

Hello <Customer's Name>,

I trust you are doing well.

I tried calling you at <phone number in XXX-XXX-XXXX format> few minutes back but reached your voicemail. I was calling you for the case in the subject to <state the reason>.

As I was not able to connect with you today, I would like to know your availability to connect and discuss the case. Please let me know what time would suit you for a call and I could send out a meeting invite to block our calendars. I look forward to hearing from you.

Have a great day ahead!

<Signature>

Possible Reasons:

1. I was calling you for the case in the subject to continue further troubleshooting.
2. I was calling you for the case in the subject to schedule a call with the impacted user.
3. I was calling you for the case in the subject to check if you got a chance to carry out the discussed plan of action.